ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION PROVIDES RELIEF WORK

A largely-attended meeting of the Blairmore Athletic Association was held at the Cosmopolitan hotel last night, at which various matters of interest were considered.

The chief item discussed was the fixing up of the athletic park. A small sum of money has been appropriated by the town towards the athletic association, and it was decided that this amount be spent at once affording relief work to the needy.

DEATH OF MRS JAMES PADEN

Word reached Blairmore on Tuesday morning of the death of a former old timer of Blairmore, in the person of Mrs. James Paden, who occurred on the evening previous at her farm home on Tod Creek.

Mr. and Mrs. Paden were among the early pioneers of Landbreck Frank and Blairmore, residing here for quite a number of years, till leaving eleven years ago to take up a homestead on the upper valley of Tod Creek, where they have since successfully prosecuted farming.

For some years past, Mrs. Paden's health had been considerably impaired, but it had never been thought that the end would be so near. A few days prior to her death she was stricken with hemorrhages, necessitating medical aid being called from a distance of about twenty to thirty miles. In one of such attacks she passed away on Monday evening at the age of sixty-one years.

Mrs. Paden is survived by her husband and one daughter, Maude, the latter married and residing at Vancouver. The remains were laid to rest in the Livingstone cemetery yesterday forenoon.

Mr. Paden, though past his eighty-first birthday, is hale and hearty, and while his numerous friends in this district were glad to see him back on the old soil on Tuesday, all join in expressions of sincerest sympathy with him in his bereavement.

SCHOOL OF TECHNOLOGY

Over a million dollars is invested in the Provincial Institute of Technology and Art in Calgary, which provides workshops and equipment to equal anything in the Dominion. This school offers young Albertans a variety of courses of utilitarian value. The Art Department, under A. C. Another new feature is a course in manual training for young men with normal training.

PRESIDENT WEST CANADIAN COLLIERIES DIES IN FRANCE

Word was received here on Monday of the death of Alphonse Wicart at his home in Lille, France, at the advanced age of eighty-six years.

Mr. Wicart was president of the West Canadian Collieries Limited since its inception in 1903, and has been interested in the development of Western Canada for the past thirty years or more.

In 1913, Mr. Wicart paid a visit to the Crows' Nest Pass and inspected the company's mining properties of the West Canadian Collieries Ltd., at Little, Bellevue and Blairmore South, and also looked over the prospects of the present Greenhill mine. No details have been received regarding the cause of death. Jules Charbonnier, vice-president of the company, was a recent visitor to Alberta and is at the present time on his return journey to France.

The minister of mines is now charged with the administration of the Coal Miners' Wages Security Act, being Chapter 46 of the Statutes of Alberta.

ALEXANDER - DRYDEN

A pretty wedding was solemnized at the United church here on Friday last, when Rev. J. W. Smith, B.D., united in marriage Miss Grace Isabel Dryden, second daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bert Dryden, of Natal, and James Herman Alexander, second son of Mr. and Mrs. William Alexander, of Iron Springs, Alta. Miss Lucille Alexander, sister of the groom, attended the bride, while Percy, his brother, acted as best man. After the ceremony, cars conveyed the party to Natal, where the wedding breakfast was served.

Amid showers of confetti and rice, the happy young couple left on their honeymoon, to be spent at Edmonton and other points north.

COWLEY HAPPENINGS

E. McDowall is now acting manager of the local bank.

A six-foot board fence is being placed across the north side of the Cowley recreation grounds.

Mrs. Ralph Easterbrook, of Calgary, is paying a visit to her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Cowin.

J. G. Swinney and W. F. Blackburn, of Fishburn, were visitors here the latter part of the week.

A whist drive and dance will be held in the I.O.O.F. hall on Friday night, in aid of St. Aiden's church.

Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Peel have returned from a motor trip through the Crows' Nest Pass, making the round trip by Banff-Windermere to Calgary.

Threshing is about finished in this district. While most of the fields yielded only a light crop of grain, there were a few exceptions here and there which turned out a fair average, with a few of them running as high as thirty-five bushels per acre.

At the last session of parliament it was decided to move Thanksgiving Day forward to a date in October, as was the custom up until a few years ago, and observe November 11th in each year as "Remembrance Day."

This has been celebrated heretofore as Armistice Day in conjunction with Thanksgiving, the joint holiday always being observed on the Monday of the week in which November 11th fell. Under the new legislation both days will be observed as public holidays. Thanksgiving has been proclaimed for Monday, October 12th, and Remembrance Day will fall on Wednesday, November 11th. Both will be school holidays. As a measure of economy the usual district conventions of teachers will be discontinued for this year. School authorities and teachers reading this notice are asked to give it as wide publicity as possible so that no confusion may result.

Right Honorable Richard Bedford Bennett, the bachelor prime minister of Canada, voices the opinion that it is up to the modern woman to remodel the hero of the hour; that the man of peace, who has given up his sword for a plowshare, must be held out as an ideal. Now, who is meant by the "hero?"

ONE of the great anxieties of visitors to huge exhibitions is the result of the lack of or indefinite information regarding suitable accommodation for meals and lodging. When the World's Grain Exhibition and Conference opens at Regina in 1932 these two very important matters will have been considered and provided for.

A special accommodation committee has been constituted to look after these important details and under the chairmanship of George Cyril Rooke, of Regina, its busy Regina Board of Trade, Regina Rotary Club, Saskatchewan Institute of Chartered Accountants, District Governor Rotary International District No. 4, president 1930-31 of the Dominion Association of Chartered Accountants.

Mr. Rooke, who is the senior partner in the chartered accountancy firm of G. C. Rooke & Company, was born at Durham, England, in 1883. Coming to Canada his education was directed toward accountancy and he is an F.C.A. and B.A.C. of the University of Saskatchewan.

Here are some of the public activities of the man whose central interest in the World's Grain Exhibition and Conference is to see that all visitors are assured of adequate accommodation: Past president of the Regina Board of Trade, Regina Rotary Club, Saskatchewan Institute of Chartered Accountants, District Governor Rotary International District No. 4, president 1930-31 of the Dominion Association of Chartered Accountants.

Mr. Rooke served with the 2nd C.M.P.'s in the South African War. He founded his present business in 1912 and for some years prior was associated with several large commercial institutions of Saskatchewan in accounting work. He has served on the Senate of the University Examining Board in accounting. ## THE HOUSE OF DREAMS-COME-TRUE

— BY —

MARGARET FIEDLER

Author of
"The Splendid Fall" and "The Hermit
Of Far End."

Hodder &amp; Stoughton, Ltd., London.

"It is as an insurance of good health that I come," he informed Joan gravely.

"Oh, yes, we are not here merely for pleasure—come tea-time!" Madame de Varigny gestured smilingly towards a merry party of men and girls who had just come in from lugging and were stamping the snow from their feet amid gay little outbreaks of chaff and laughter. "We have just as late as, Peter?"

"The suddenly muted quality of her voice implied just the right amount of sympathetic recollection—"so that mon pauvre mari may assure himself of yet another year of health."

The faintly ironical gleam in her eyes convinced Joan that, as she had shrewdly begun to suspect, the little Count was a "malade imaginaire," and once again she found herself wondering what could be the circumstances responsible for the union of two such dissimilar personalities as the high-bred, hypochondriacal little Count and the rather splendidly-born woman who was his wife.

She intended, later on, to ask her father if he would supply the key to the riddle, but he had contrived to drift off during the course of her conversation with the Varignys, and when at last she found herself free to join him, he had disappeared altogether.

She thought it very probable that he had gone out to watch the progress of a ski-jump, to which he had referred with some enthusiasm earlier in the day, and she smiled a little at the characteristic way in which he had extricated himself, at her expense, from the inconvenience of his unexpected rencontre with the Varignys.

But, two hours later, she realized that once again his superficial air of animation had deceived her. From her window she saw him coming alone, the frozen track that led from the hillside cemetery, and for a moment she hardly recognized her father in that suddenly shrunken, huddled figure of a man, stumbling down the path, his head thrust forward and sunken on his breast.

Her first imperative instinct was to go and meet him. Her whole being ached with the longing to let him feel the warm rush of her sympathy, to assure him that she was not utterly alone. But she checked the impulse, recognizing that he had no use for any sympathy or love which she could give.

She had never really been anything other than exterior to life, outside his happiness, and now she felt intuitively that he would wish her to remain equally outside the temple of his grief.

PUTNAM'S

W. M. U. 1910

He was the type of man who would kindly resent the knowledge that any eyes had seen him at a moment of such utter, pitiable self-revelation, and it was the measure of her understanding that Jean waited quietly till he should choose to come to her.

When he came, he had more or less regained his customary poise, though he still looked strained and shaken. He addressed her abruptly.

"I've decided to go straight on to Marseilles and sail by the next boat, Jean. There's one I can catch if I start at once."

"At once?" she exclaimed, taken aback. "You don't mean—today?" He nodded.

"Yes, this very evening. I find I can get down to Marseilles in time for the night-mall. Then, answering her unspoken thought: "You'll be quite all right. You will be certain to hear from Lady Anne in a day or two, and, meanwhile, I'll ask Madame de Varigny to play chess."

She was delighted—with a flash of the ironical humour that was never long absent from him.

"I really forget. My father did once tell me, but I don't recollect what he said."

A perceptible shade of disappointment passed over the other's face, then, as though realizing that she had exhibited a rather unbecoming curiosity, she said deprecatingly:

was a romantic love-affair of some kind behind it?"

"It was Lady Anne's second marriage. Her first husband was a Tor-marion—one of the oldest families in England," Jean spoke rather stiffly. "That was something, having about the pertinacious catchiness."

Madame de Varigny's lips trembled as she put her next question, and not even the dusky fringe of lashes could quite restrain the sudden tense gleam in her eyes.

"Tor—ma—rin!" She pronounced the name with a French inflection, evidently finding the unusual English word a little beyond her powers. "What a curious name! That, I am sure, must be uncommon. And this Lady Anne—she has children—sons?"

"Oh, yes. She has two sons."

"Indeed?" Madame de Varigny took interest. "And what are the sons called?"

She regarded her with mild surprise. Apparently the subject of nomenclature had a peculiar fascination for her.

"I really forget. My father did once tell me, but I don't recollect what he said."

A perceptible shade of disappointment passed over the other's face, then, as though realizing that she had exhibited a rather unbecoming curiosity, she said deprecatingly:

Strength Of Yellow

Race Is Increasing

Chinese May Eventually Cover Earth

Say British Scientists

Scientists of the British Association for the Advancement of Science spoke warning words of the growing strength of the yellow races.

Professor F. A. Crew of Edinburgh, Scotland, said the Chinese were swarming and conquering in peaceful migration, vast regions in the Pacific.

"This migration," Professor Crew said, "is an event which surpasses in importance all the civil wars now being conducted in China, for we are being given evidence that of all human stocks the Chinese is perhaps most adaptable."

"They seem to breed and develop normally anywhere and everywhere. If this is the case then indeed the Chinese will inherit the earth."

Professor John Huxley, distinguished biologist, described birth control as a new phenomenon of the first magnitude which was likely to affect all countries in the coming century.

The report, even in countries where over-population threatened, in the next 100 years would probably bring danger of depopulation, he declared.

Professor A. M. Carr-Saunders of Liverpool said the population of the world had increased four-fold in 300 years. He predicted the races of European descent would stop increasing within three generations.

The Crisis In Britain

The Causes Leading Up To The

Financial Struggle

Let no man think that one step will take us out of the wood, or that by one bound we can reach the upper air after our plunge down the easy descent to Avernus. The causes go far back and they will not be rooted out by digging on the surface only.

We go back to the War, to the years of destruction and consumption; of production not of wealth but of weapons of no worth today; to the incuring of our war debts and their results, one of which is the storing of gold in a country which refuses to take goods in payment of debt; to the effect of this on the world's trade, when prices fall and fall, in part because producers long to sell their commodities at any price in a market that refuses to buy them. Nearer home are causes which we ought to have controlled, consuming more than we produced, what is called living above our income.—London Spectator.

Find Prehistoric Remains

Skeleton Of Man Of Giant Proportions

Unearthed In British Columbia

Ethnologists and archaeologists in British Columbia are intensely interested in the discovery, by a road gang, of a group of skeletons near Vernon. It is believed that they may prove to be the remains of a race that preceded the native races that met the first coming of the whites in the interior valleys 120 years ago.

The particular skeleton that is causing speculation is that of a man. It measures six and one-half feet, but the man, in life, would have measured at least one inch possibly two inches more. The skull formation is much larger and of different shape to those discovered in other excavations in the district.

The find was made by a road gang at work on the Vernon-Kamloops highway, about four miles out of the former place. Six skeletons were uncovered. One was that of a woman, three of boys in their 'teen ages, and a fifth of a young man possibly of 19 or 20. Nearby was located the frame of the man of gigantic proportions.

In close association with the human remains were found stone implements, differing but little from the type of implements used by natives on the arrival of the white man. This, however, does not give any indication as to the period at which the aborigines lived as there is practically no difference known to exist that definitely marks phases of the Stone Age west of the Rockies.

Among modern Indians there are legends of the existence of a race of giants who inhabited the country before the coming of the peoples of Mongolian extraction.

THE RHYMING OPTIMIST

By Aline Michaels

THE CHALLENGER

At last there dawns a day when strength drifts out.

When every energy and impulse wane,

When high desire is gone and creeping doubt

Brings futile fears and shadows in its train.

Then rises in man's soul to meet that hour

A force surpassing any he has known,

A calm security, a certain power

Not to be turned aside or overthrown.

This is its part; to nerve his out-

stretched hand,

Until it grasps, unflatteringly, the cup

Life offers him; defying, to withstand

The menace of the portion he must sup.

Supreme despite defeat, man then must be

Himself a challenge to Divinity!

Egg Exports Higher

British Market For Canadian Product

Better Than Last Year

The financial situation in Great Britain is not expected to have any immediate effect on export of eggs from Canada.

The bulk of the contracts for exports of eggs to Britain are completed by this time of the year, states a weekly report of the Department of Agriculture, with practically all sales on a basis of Canadian currency.

In recent years export of eggs to Great Britain have been declining steadily, due to increased consumption in Canada, but the current year has witnessed some revival which promises to be substantially above 1930.

Not Peculiar To London

Well-To-Do People Taking Jobs Away From Needy Ones

We are interested in reading that "the Hon. Phyllis Astor, only daughter of Viscount and Viscountess Astor, is one of the latest recruits to the business world." She has taken a job—or possibly it is a position—in a London west end real estate office.

It may be assumed that the Hon. Phyllis is a capable young woman who will be able to make herself of use in the office referred to and that her services will be of value to the concern hiring her. One might indulge here in a few of those standard observations about the nobility of work, the waste and wickedness of idleness and all that sort of thing.

But we can't get away from the thought that there must be a lot of girls in London who need that job much more than does the Hon. Phyllis. We do not understand that there is any lack in the Astor ladder. And by the way, this is a thought that has a wider application than to the case at hand.

What's In A Name

When Well Established It Means Much To A Paper

When the London Sunday News stopped publication a couple of weeks ago, not even the members of its staff knew that this was about to happen.

The paper had formerly been Lloyd's Weekly News, a great popular favourite and the first newspaper in England to reach the million in circulation. It was at the top of its popularity when it was purchased by a new company and Frank Lloyd stipulated that after a certain period the family name should be dropped from its title. The purchaser agreed to this, not knowing the supreme importance of an established name in a case like that. The readers of Lloyd's did not find it out on the news stands. They did not know the Sunday News from a dozen others. By changing its name the paper went down and out.

Britain Suggests Disarmament Proposal To United States

In anticipation of the Geneva disarmament conference next winter, British statesmen have renewed their suggestion that the United States join with them in abolition of the battleship, it is learned.

British statesmen say the battleship has lost its major usefulness, that it is the greatest source of expense in naval budgets, and the best place at which to effect large economies at one stroke.

Men seek retreats, houses in the country, seashores and mountains; and thou too art wont to desire such things very much. But this is altogether a mark of the most common sort of men, for it is in thy power whenever thou shalt choose to retire into thyself. For nowhere either with more quiet or more freedom from trouble does a man retire than into his own soul, particularly when he has within him such thoughts that by looking into them he is immediately in perfect tranquillity.

Has Strange Hobby

London Man Has Read Old Testament Fifty-Seven Times

There is a man in England who has made a hobby of reading the Bible. He has read the whole of the Old Testament fifty-seven times and the New Testament 114 times—all in fifty-seven years. He is Mr. Frank Jannaway of Stockwell Park Road, London.

He reads portions of the Bible for fifteen or twenty minutes three times a day, and by this means it is possible in a year, to read the Old Testament once and the New Testament twice.

Despite the cold weather on Friday, the attendance at the school track meet was almost 100 per cent, and quite an enjoyable day was spent.

Charlie O'Neill, the Calgary youth who made good in the American hockey league last winter, his first season in professional company, will play with the Chicago Shamrocks during the 1931-32 season.

"Eggs are quiet," says a local wholesale report. On the other hand one of ours the other morning struck us as inclined to be chatty.

Jones (purchasing a new overcoat): "But I can't wear this. It's three sizes too big."

Mrs. Jones: "Remember, dear, it has to go over the radiator of the car in cold weather. That's what we have to consider first."

WHO'S WHO

Capt. W. A. Beebe

We are pleased to announce that the report circulated in Edmonton, Calgary and other points in Alberta to the effect that Capt. W. A. Beebe, pioneer and highly respected citizen of Blaimore, was dead and gone beyond was false, and that he is still very much alive and active in the interests of our town and school district.

Only very recently, through the influence of Capt. Beebe as a member of the Blaimore Town Council, a large steel bridge was acquired from the government free of cost, with condition that the town could have same to be placed where desired, providing they would pay all removing costs. This proposition was unanimously accepted by the council and the bridge now stands as a monument to one of the first founders of the town, across the Old Man River at Fifth Avenue, where in a few days it will bear the plaque: "Beebe Bridge."

Capt. Beebe was born in Norfolk, Ontario, on September the 26th, 1847, of the marriage of Jordan and Elizabeth (Thompson) Beebe, the former a native of Scotland and the latter of Canada. Hence, at the ripe age of eighty-four, we doubt if anyone in Alberta is as spry as Mr. Beebe is right today.

The history of William A. Beebe, if written in detail, would constitute a narrative as interesting as any stirring tale of fiction, for his has been a life of adventure, filled with varied and exciting experiences. For thirty-one years he has been a resident of Blaimore and his name is inseparably associated with the growth and development of the town from the time of its establishment until the present.

Mr. Beebe was reared and educated in his native province and started out in commercial life at Bay City, Michigan, in the dredge and vessel business, and later established a wholesale fisheries business at Port Arthur, Ontario. While thus engaged he became known as "Captain" Beebe. He spent the greater part of his time on the American side and afterward sold out to go to the gold region of the Klondyke. There he remained from 1888 till 1900, and his thrilling experiences during that period are recorded in a diary, for which he has received many tempting offers from newspaper owners, but has always refused to sell.

In 1900 he made his way to Blaimore and established a real estate and insurance business, which he has since successfully conducted. At the time of his arrival here, the town was in its infancy, consisting only of a railroad station. Through his real estate activities, he has converted unoccupied vacancies into attractive business and residential districts, and his work has been of signal service in promoting Blaimore's upbuilding and improvement.

He has served as overseer, mayor, councillor and school trustee almost continuously since the town or original village came into existence and today is most active in both municipal and school district affairs.

Again, using a biblical term: He is not dead, but liveth.

The lecturer was emphasizing the demoralizing effect of divorce.

"Love," he said, "is a quest; a proposal, a request—the giving of a daughter's hand in marriage, a bequest, and marriage itself the conquest. But what is divorce?"

Voice from the audience: "The inquest."

She: "Darling, will you give up going to the club and stay at home where we are married?"

He: "Of course, dear, if you wish it."

She: "Of course I wish it. Who is to look after the house whilst I am out?"

A National Disgrace

With the advent of the first few chilly nights this Fall, the newspapers once again begin the gruesome task of printing reports of fires with their records of tragic loss of life, terrible sufferings and enormous loss of valuable property, caused, in the vast majority of cases, through downright carelessness and disregard of the most obvious dictates of common sense. In the first week following the first frost, the papers reported a case after case of explosion, fire, and death following the improper use of kerosene in starting fires in stoves. Yet people will persist in this highly dangerous practice.

Despite all the efforts of Government and municipal departments and officials, reinforced by those of insurance companies, the fire loss in Canada mounts steadily higher. Computed in dollars and cents alone Canadian fire losses in 1930 totalled over $46,000,000. This does not take into account the loss of 237 lives, nor the expenses entailed for doctors, nurses, hospitals for a much larger number of persons severely burned. It does not include the enormous expense to which every urban community is put in maintaining elaborate and costly fire-fighting equipment, nor the excessive insurance premiums which every owner of property is called upon to pay because the fire risk in Canada is so hazardous.

People today complain of depression, hard times and business losses, yet Canadians remain undisturbed over a condition, largely preventable, but which is laying a direct and heavy toll upon them of millions of dollars a week. If because of hard times and consequent inability to pay rent or meet mortgage payments, an average of three families a day were thrown out of their homes, a vigorous protest against heartless landlords and mortgage companies would be heard throughout the land, yet, according to recent figures made public, an average of three families were made homeless by fire in Saskatchewan alone every day in 1930, and the figure is even higher for the first half of 1931.

The figures are positively startling. In this one Canadian Province, (Saskatchewan), between January 1, 1930, and July 31, 1931, no less than 1,679 dwellings, 579 stores, 610 barns, and hundreds of other buildings were destroyed by fire. And hardly a protest is heard! This terrible loss, which is being duplicated proportionately in all other Provinces,—and which is going on at a time when the demand is being made to reduce legitimate expenditures all along the line, lower wages, eliminate all waste and extravagance,—is largely preventable. This great loss, which, if saved, would more than provide for all necessary relief works throughout the Dominion, is the direct result of carelessness and reckless disregard of obviously dangerous conditions.

The work of education along lines of fire prevention must go on. It must be attempted on a scale hitherto unknown. It is gratifying to note that, in Saskatchewan at least, a well-organized campaign is being inaugurated among all school children, one designed to capture the imagination and assure the interest of all children.

But is fire prevention campaigns and propaganda sufficient in themselves? In the past they have not been. The question arises, therefore, whether the time has not come in Canada to have an official inquiry into every fire that takes place, ascertain the cause and fix the blame, and coupled with this, to make it an offence under the law for any person to have a fire from other than natural causes beyond their control, such as lightning, and made liable to a fine and subject to the payment of damages for any resultant loss to other people's property?

If the tenant or owner of a house was liable to a fine if a fire occurs because of a dirty chimney, defective wiring, accumulated rubbish, or other preventable cause, and made to pay the costs of the fire department in extinguishing the blaze, and forced to make good any loss sustained by a neighbor because of his carelessness, then, possibly, a good many now very careless and thoughtless people would exercise more care.

And why, it may be asked, should the careless householder from a fire protection standpoint, be immune from the payment of penalties for his carelessness any more than the careless automobile driver, or industrialist, who neglects to provide safeguards for his workmen?

The fire loss in Canada is a national disgrace, as well as constituting a huge annual national loss that can ill afford to suffer. It is time something effective,—drastic if necessary,—be done to not merely remedy but remove this evil.

Canada in England

Dominion Took Prominent Part in Animal Exhibition Held at Bristol

A prominent part taken by Canada in the annual exhibition at Bristol, England, held from September 3rd to 16th. A Canadian section was organized consisting of Government, merchant stand and individual booths occupied by private Canadian firms, according to an announcement of the Department of Trade and Commerce. The background of the Government display is a large industrial map of Canada illustrating the points of production of many products exported to the United Kingdom.

Where Man Falls

There are fifty million food victims starving in China, while 13,000,000 in Canada and the United States are bursting with millions of bushels of wheat for which there is no market. The people will likely go on dying and the wheat will continue to rot in the fields in which it is stored. Such is the world's system of transportation and distribution in emergencies.

A Prince Among Merchants

Heir to British Throne Has Good Business Head

Though it is true the Prince is not engaged either in a manufacture or in the export trade, it is a mistake to think he has no business experience. He has his own estates to manage, both here and in Canada; and, even though he leaves the details to others, he cannot help learning the broad principles that underlie all business transactions; and that he has grasped these, and has himself what is known as "a good head for business," is proved by the readiness of business men to listen to him, and their high opinion of his judgment.

With Humble Apologies

An insurance company wrote a $10,000 policy in the name of one Sam. He died last May. Yours truly, Mrs. H. Johnson.

Could Not Check the Summer Complaint

A Few Doses Did It

Mrs. B. Coulter, 918-11th Ave. E., Calgary, Alta., writes: "I was suffering my youngest son, very bad with summer complaint, and everything he ate he would vomit, and he got so that I became very worried. I could not get the discharge checked, so I went to the drugstore and he gave me a bottle of Dr. Fowler's Extinct of Wild Strawberry. After I had given the boy the first few doses I noticed the discharges were being checked, and in was not long before he was well again."

Smothering Used As Cure For Tuberculosis

Doctor Has Recently Introduced This Method In Vienna

Smothering the inside of one's lungs to cure tuberculosis is a procedure introduced in Vienna by Dr. Alexander Cemach, inventor of ultra-violet rays.

Dr. Cemach recently developed a device for treating hay fever and other nasal irritations by the application of these rays to the inside of the nose. To use his still newer device for treating tuberculosis, spots in the lungs affected by the disease first are located exactly by a series of X-ray photographs. A skilled surgeon then introduced into each of these infected spots in turn a narrow, bent rod, passed through the throat and having at its end a tiny quartz lamp supplied with electric current, through wires, inside the rod.

Once properly in place, this quartz lamp is lit electrically for a few minutes. A powerful current of the ultra-violet rays, like those in sunlight, thus is produced inside the diseased part of the lung. The germs of tuberculosis are killed easily by these rays, which is the reason sunlight is so good a disinfectant against them.

Many of the living germs in an infected lung thus are killed. Dr. Cemach believes, by the internal ray provided by his instrument. Even if some of the germs are protected by the lung tissue enough are killed so that the natural germ-killing force of the body can dispose of the rest.

Treatment by the instrument is now under comprehensive trial in Vienna, especially for the kind of tuberculosis sometimes called "gaping consumption," which progresses rapidly and often fails to yield to ordinary methods of treatment.

"THESE HARD TIMES"

"The hard times and scarcity of money makes it more important than ever to economize. One way I save on clothes is by renewing the color faded or out-of-style dresses, coat, stockings, and underwear. For dyeing, or tinting, I always use Diamond Dyes. They never fail. They make you proud. Why, things look better than new when redyed with Diamond Dyes. They never spot, streak, or run. They go on smoothly and evenly, when in the hands of even a child. They make the colors of your clothes look like new. Diamond Dyes never take the life out of cloth or leave it limp as some dyes do. They do not bleed, or called 'the world's finest dyes'!" S.B.G., Quebec.

The Safest Conveyance

Toronto Provides Accidents To Street Cars Are Rare

Although seventy-one were injured in a street car wreck at Windsor, Ontario, the fact remains that a street car is just about the safest place to be while on a public thoroughfare. Since taking over the Toronto Railway Co. in 1921, the Toronto Tramway Co. had collected, up to the end of 1930, more than 1,775,000 fares on its city system, and the number, together with fares on the coaches, etc., is now in excess of 2,000,000,000. Yet not one passenger has been killed while riding on a street car or bus. It is a fine record.

Persian Balm—Invaluable to the whole family. To the mother, a first aid to loveliness. To the child, a soothing, healing balm. And to the father, a splendid hair restorative and cooling shaving lotion. Persian Balm tones and refreshes the skin. Makes hands delightfully soft and white. Indispensable to dainty women. A little gentle rubbing and it is absorbed by the tissues, making the skin truly rose-leaf in texture.

Frozen Strawberries

New Process For Packing Adopted By B.C. Growers

Frozen strawberries and other small fruit will be shipped from Vancouver Island in steadily increasing volume, following the adoption of a new process for packing, in the opinion of Captain F. Livesey, manager of the Saanich Fruit Growers' Association, who expects that the plan will absorb a large part of this year's surplus. A company has been formed with a capital of $75,000, and with the growers as chief stockholders, which expects to handle at least 30 tons of strawberries and loganberries this season.

Masks of living faces can now be made by a method which preserves the human features, exactly as they are in life.

IN BED WITH BACKACHE

"Two years ago I suffered with severe pains in the small of my back, and could with difficulty hold myself upright. At times I had to go to bed for a week at a time. I went to and from hospital for 8 months, and they certainly did me good, but they told me they could not keep giving me medicine, but that I needed complete rest for 6 months, away from my children. I could not rest myself to be parted from the children, so I did not go to hospital any more. I started using Kruschen Salts and have had no trouble with my back since."—Mrs. W. Kruschen contains vital salts that go right down to the root cause of backache. Soon after you start using Kruschen, the sharp pain of backache ceases. As you persevere with the "little daily dose" the twinges become less and less frequent, until finally you hardly know what an ache or pain is. Then, if you're wise, you'll reveal the possibility of a release by continuing the tiny, tasteless pinch of Kruschen every morning.

Was Dangerous Trip

Wilkins Returned Because 'He Considered Conditions Too Risky'

One day after Mr. George Hubert Wilkins and his Arctic exploring submarine "Nautilus" had for six days caused commotion with anxious radio stations, his pretty wife exclaimed in London: "I have a hunch tonight will bring good news."

"Nautilus" lay floating amid ice debris north of Spitzbergen and about 400 miles from the North Pole. Ice had broken off the submarine's diving tank. Nonetheless Sir Hubert had water-filled his diving chambers, and nosed under vast cakes of ice. When the first scrape under, a hollow steel hull, Wilkins reported, "was a veritable drum or sound box with the faintest scratch of the ice sounding like the ripping of giant strips of calico. Heavy bumps set up tremors like the continuous shocks of earthquakes."

The crew quickly recovered from first fright, looked out the portholes. They saw "steel-like fans of ice, moving stealthily through the water, throughout the entire range of blues." They saw prawn-like and cockroach-shaped creatures, sea fleas, medusa jelly fish. Through compression chambers they took samples of water from bottom sludge. They rammed their ice-borer, which was to give them escape if they were gripped under ice, against sea chunks and smashed it. Ice crushed the submarine's "Nautilus," which were, to enable her to slide against the underside of ice fields. She sprang two leaks, became miserably dark within. The propeller edges became saw-toothed and bent, grinding the ice. Sir Hubert had been reporting the submarine excursion, wirelessly his plea: "I must urgently beg of you to return promptly to safety and to defer any further adventure until another and more favourable time, with a better boat."

Sir Hubert replied that it had really become too risky to venture further north. Regularly he was returning to Spitzbergen. Norwegian recalled "planes and ships en route for 'Nautilus' rescue, and voiced their vexation at the expense which troubled explorers cause other people. It was suggested that henceforth all Polar expeditions be required to post enough money to be used when the trouble was in its first stages. Do not neglect asthma, but use this preparation at once.

Up To The People

All the Government measures in the world cannot create prosperity, says the London Daily Express. They can break down barriers. They can clear the channels. But in the end the manufacturers, the worker, the wholesaler and the retailer must carry the responsibility on their shoulders. Leave the Government to the Government. They are quite adequate to the present emergency. As for the rest of us, let us get on with our jobs—and begin today.

Help For Asthma. Neglect gives asthma a bad advantage. The trouble, once it has secured a foothold, is like a grip on the bronchial passages tenaciously. Dr. J. D. Kellogg's Asthma Remedy is daily benefiting thousands of sufferers. Years of suffering, however, might have been prevented had the remedy been used when the trouble was in its first stages. Do not neglect asthma, but use this preparation at once.

The Three Essentials

In order to obtain the greatest possible returns from the pullet flock, three essential things are: Good healthy, vigorous stock and proper winter quarters. It is during the winter months that the greater profits are made because of the higher price of eggs.

The Changing Conditions

Now Passing Through a Phase the World Has Never Before Experienced

The methods and habits that are now rapidly spreading over the world are not those produced by the industrialism of the nineteenth century, but those arising directly out of the advances made in a single generation, contemporary civilization being barely twenty years old. The world of today is what it is, not because of the industry and invention of which steam and the railway were the governing forces, but because of electricity and motor transport, the airplane, the cinema, the radio. These influences came into social operation with extraordinary swiftness, and their conquest of the whole world will now be a matter, relatively, of a very short period. The life of all mankind becomes directly affected. The relations of governments and peoples, money, manufactures, and crops, standards of living, the worker's food and leisure, his children's education and his wife's domestic day—all are going through a rapid and thorough transformation the like of which has never been known on earth.—New Statesman and Nation.

Save On Pensions

Decision Of Federal Government Will Assist Alberta

Savings at the rate of $350,000 a year will be made to the Alberta provincial treasury by the decision of the Dominion Government to take over 75 per cent. of the old age pensions payments, advice of which has just been received from Ottawa.

The new arrangement will date from July last. It will involve a revision of the agreement between the provinces and Dominion, but this, it is stated by Premier Brownlee, will be only a formality and will be attended to at once.

The division of the "responsibility" for old age pensions, as between the two governments, has heretofore been on a fifty-fifty basis, Alberta's total budget for the purpose being $1,000,000. On this a saving of 25 per cent. will now be made to the province.

"Sleep is the great nourisher of infants, and without peaceful sleep the child will not thrive. This cannot be got if the infant be troubled with worms. Miller's Worm Powders will destroy worms and drive them from the system, and afterwards the child's rest will be undisturbed. The powder cannot injure the most delicate baby, and there is nothing so effective for restoring the health of a worm-worm infant."

Giant Airship Tested

The U.S.S. Akron Carried 115 Passengers On Test Trip

The U.S.S. Akron has been taken upon her first flight and came down safely at Akron, Ohio, three hours and 47 minutes later.

The flight was the first test for the world's largest dirigible, built here for the United States navy, and the Akron went through it in a manner highly pleasing to navy officials. The ship carried 115 men, the most ever carried in the air in the United States and believed by navy officials to be the largest passenger list of any airship in the world.

When TEETHING makes HIM FUSSY

One of the most important things you can do to make a teething baby comfortable is to see that little bowls do their work of carrying off waste matter promptly and regularly. For this nothing is better than Castoria, a pure vegetable preparation specially made for babies and children. Castoria acts so gently you can give it to young infants to relieve colic. Yet it is always effective, for older children, too. Remember, Castoria contains no harsh drugs, no narcotics—It is absolutely harmless. When your baby is fretful with teething or a food upset, give a cleansing dose of Castoria. Be sure you get genuine Castoria with the name: Dr. H. H. Foster

MOSLEM UNREST LOOMS IF RIGHTS NOT PROTECTED

London, Eng.—A threat of unrest if the rights of the Moslems in India are not protected when India is accorded federation status was voiced by leading Indian Moslems to the members of the House of Commons and the House of Lords.

Maulana Shaikat Ali, who served nine years in prison for anti-British activities, predicted trouble if the Moslem demands are not met.

"But," he said, "if you want friends, here is the hand of an honest man." Up to that point the committee room in the House of Commons had been quiet as a church, but at his offer of peace the members cried "Hear! Hear!" and there was a great clapping of hands and stamping of feet.

Sir Mohammed Saad, speaking for the Aga Khan, Moslem leader, expressed the belief that the future of India lies within the British Commonwealth of Nations.

"India's Moslems will co-operate," said he, "until and unless you bring it to them that the British Government no longer will recognize and protect their legitimate interests—unless we also adopt a policy of non-operation such as has been adopted in some quarters."

Meanwhile the Hindu-Moslem communal dispute is holding up the progress of the round table delegates whose minorities committee adjourned for another week to allow Mahatma Gandhi and the Aga Khan an opportunity to reach an agreement regarding the status of the Moslems under the projected federation.

Faith In the Future

Premier Bennett Has Message Of Hope For Missionary Gathering

Toronto, Ont.—With ringing utterances of faith and confidence in the future, Premier R. B. Bennett declared that the issue before the world today is that of Christian civilization. Civilization has not failed; Christian religion must not go into the discard, and with supreme confidence, high courage and faith, the Prime Minister stated, we must look forward to the future.

The Premier addressed the United Church Missionary Congress assembled in convention. Scheduled to deliver one speech, Premier Bennett had to deliver two. Crowded to capacity, the old landmark of Massey Hall, scene of many notable gatherings, was insufficient to accommodate the audience for his first address. Mr. Bennett later spoke to an overflow gathering in the Metropolitan Church.

"What is the matter with the world?" the Prime Minister exclaimed. "What is the trouble with the world? The mad orgy of extravagance, reckless expenditure of money, forgetting old and homely virtues of thrift that should be the motto of our lives—all these things have brought us to this pass."

How could present difficulties be overcome? Premier Bennett continued. Some people look to governments and said they must do it, others looked to churches and said they must do it. "But men and women," he continued, "it will be only by you and me, ourselves, and by no one else. It is what the individual will do that will determine the issue."

Revival Of Gold Mining

Vancouver, B.C.—In line with despatches from Whitehorse, which reported the discovery of a highly mineralized gold quartz bearing area at Livingstone Creek in southern Yukon, mining men, who have returned from the district say there are signs of a revival in gold mining that is unmistakable. There are more prospectors in the hills than for many years, they state.

Favourable For Gold Prospecting

Ottawa, Ont.—Geological conditions of an area several hundred square miles in extent in the Oxford Lake district of northeastern Manitoba appear favourable for future prospecting of gold, according to Dr. J. P. Wright, of the geological survey, Department of Mines, Ottawa, who has just completed a season's work in that area.

Sets New World Mark

British Flyer Breaks Own Record Made In Schneider Race

London, Eng.—Flight Lieutenant G. H. Stainforth established a new world's aeroplane speed record of 408.5 miles an hour over a three-kilometer course at Calabot, it has been officially announced.

Flight Lieutenant Stainforth broke his own record of 379.05 miles an hour, made in the Schneider trophy race on September 13. He flew a six-plane fitted with special engines.

The announcement was made following a prolonged examination and comparison of the judges' checks. The following speeds were finally given for the four successive laps: 415.2, 405.1, 406.5, and 408.5.

These gave an average speed of 408.8 miles an hour.

The racing aeroplane flown by Lieutenant Stainforth was fitted with what is claimed to be the most powerful engine ever built and it was designed for this flight alone, achieving the amazing speed of 415.2 miles an hour on one of the four laps.

Attends Quaker Meeting

Mahatma Gandhi Goes To Prayer Meeting and Maintains Silence

London, Eng.—Mahatma Gandhi, Hindu Nationalist leader, and Lord Sankey, Lord High Chancellor, who is presiding over the Indian Round Table Conference committee meetings, went to a Quaker prayer meeting and sat in the front row for an hour while nobody spoke a word. At the end of the period the assembly, still silent, arose from its seats and dispersed.

The Mahatma then went to a hotel to meet His Highness the Aga Khan, spiritual leader of the Moslem world, for a further attempt at an approach between Moslems and Hindus. Earlier in the day both Gandhi and the Aga Khan had separate conversations with Prime Minister Ramsay MacDonald.

Gold Production Declines

Predicted United States Will Relinquish Second Place As Producer

Washington, D.C.—An ebb tide in the steady stream of gold flowing from domestic mines to well-filled United States vaults for the next decade is expected by statisticians.

Troubles of Great Britain, Sweden and Norway, and other gold standard nations have revived discussion here among geologists and mineralogists of this country's future raw gold supply. All held to the theory future discoveries would be negligible while existing fields slowly would be exhausted. They predict United States will relinquish second place in world production, ranking next to Canada by 1933, and drop from a valued output of $42,800,000, in 1930, to $36,100,000 in 1940. South Africa now leads with upwards of $200,000,000 yearly.

Cuts Contract For Destroyers

Washington, D.C.—The United States navy has scuttled six of its 11 paper destroyers. Secretary of the Navy Adams announced the award of contracts for four vessels of this type. One destroyer had already been awarded to the New York navy yard. Eleven had been authorized by Congress.

"As You Were"

Return Of The Ever Popular Dumbells To Western Canada

Winnipeg, Man.—A brief glance at the theatrical situation in Canada shows the same condition that has prevailed for the last two or three years. There are a lot of shows on the books. Several whose dates were set for early in the season have cancelled, and the only attraction that is keeping to their original bookings and playing right across Canada is our own representative company, "The Dumbells," now on their thirteenth annual tour of the Dominion.

"The Dumbells" are booked for the west shortly, when they will present a new, and from all reports excellent, overseas revue, called "As You Were." The military sounding title was chosen advisedly to convey the glad news that "The Dumbells" are once more an all-men organization—as they were in France, and for their first ten years in Canada.

Ross Hamilton is back, sharing the three star honours with Al Plunkett and "Red" News. Other featured impersonators are, Glenn Allan, the clever dancer of a few seasons ago; Don Ronsdale, the internationally famous impersonator of coloured belles; and the burlesque beauty brigade. The Dumbells are also featuring a ten piece stage band under the direction of Captain M. W. Plunkett. "The Dumbells" will be at the Walker Theatre, Winnipeg, this week, then Capitol Theatre, Regina, Oct. 12, 13, 14. Then to the Grand Theatre, Oct. 15, 16, 17. Then to the Grand Theatre, Oct. 19th, week, and Grand Theatre, Calgary, Oct. 20th, week.

Famous British Artist

Death Reported Of Sir William Orpen After Long Illness

London, Eng.—The comparatively early age of 53 years Sir William Orpen, distinguished British artist, president of the International Society of Sculptors, Painters and Engravers for the past ten years, died Wednesday night, Sept. 30. He had been ill for a considerable period.

Sir William's most notable work was probably in the field of portraiture, and noted critics have commented that his decided bent to the satiric and summary method brings some of them close to caricature. A heated controversy was aroused over what was virtually his last painting, "Palm Sunday, A.D. 33," exhibited at the last meeting of the Royal Academy—a study of Christ on a donkey, going to Jerusalem.

Sell Butter To States

Discount On Canadian Dollar May Make It Profitable

Montreal, Que.—Canada may sell butter in the United States shortly if the large discount on the Canadian dollar is widened, according to opinions expressed on the butter market Wednesday, Sept. 30.

The United States has a duty of 14 cents a pound on butter, just as Canada has on United States butter, but dealers estimated they could lay butter down in New York at 32½ cents per pound, a little under the market there. Local price is around 19½ cents.

BRITISH GENERAL ELECTIONS STILL IN THE BALANCE

London, Eng.—The general election still wavers in the balance. Prime Minister Ramsay MacDonald's erratic repulse in the House of Commons gave the political prophet new material. He announced the House would adjourn, but he did not say anything about dissolution and an election.

Most members of the House regard dissolution as almost inevitable. They hold the movement for an election has gone too far to be stemmed. The common impression is that adjournment of Parliament will be followed by a proclamation of dissolution. But the Government has not yet reached a final decision, it is intimated.

From his Surrey home, Rt. Hon. David Lloyd George, veteran Liberal leader, is showing his hand. Sir Herbert Samuel, acting Liberal leader, had a long conference with Mr. Churchill, and rumours were current of sharp differences of opinion.

Efforts in the last few days have been directed towards discovery of a formula on tariffs which will satisfy both the Conservative and the official Liberal wings of the National Government. The Liberals are willing to accept emergency tariffs if, after investigation, they were proved necessary to restore trade prosperity. But a preliminary investigation they regard as essential.

Now Lloyd George, it is stated in Liberal circles, takes the further ground that the Liberal agreement to consider emergency tariffs is contingent on there being no election. If Sir Herbert Samuel agrees with his Conservative cabinet colleagues to an election, the Liberals may split.

BRITISH SUBS GO TO CHINA

Above is a picture of the "Proteus," one of the four new British submarines in the "E" class, the latest thing in underwater fighting craft, which has left British waters to start open submarine warfare against roving Chinese pirates who prey on foreign and Chinese ships in the Siam Bay area. She will join the "Fusilier," "Peregrine" and "Pandora," in the class.

SUGGESTS PLAN

Hon. Peter Heenan, former Minister of Labor in the Canadian Liberal Government, proposes a five-million dollar insurance fund to protect railway workers from lay-offs such as are being experienced at present. He unfolded his plan when addressing a service club in Ottawa.

Praises Hospital Work

Hon. R. B. Bennett Addresses Large Gathering In Toronto

Toronto, Ont.—In words of highest encouragement and appreciation of the work of medical science for the preservation of the race and happiness, Rt. Hon. R. B. Bennett, Prime Minister, addressed the American Hospital Association here. The past 50 or 60 years, Premier Bennett declared, had witnessed greater advance in medical science than in all the preceding centuries.

"As I review the advances of mankind," the Prime Minister told his audience of medical practitioners gathered from Canada and the United States, "I find during the past 50 or 60 years more progress has been made against disease and illness than in all the centuries preceding that period."

"On behalf of Canada," he offered a hearty welcome to the delegates. "While we may find that frontiers divide us and customs duties are imposed," Premier Bennett added with a touch of humor, "there are no frontiers and no customs duties imposed against the united efforts of our friends to the south and our country for the good of suffering humanity."

Ruling On Anthracite Coal

Will Not Be Subject To The Dumping Duty

Ottawa, Ont.—Anthracite coal imported in Canada will not be subject to the dumping duty provided in the Customs Act. The dumping clause of the act is only applicable in the case of "a class or kind made or produced in Canada." A bulletin sent out to customs officers from the Department of National Revenue states that anthracite coal is ruled to be not of a class or kind produced in Canada. It is therefore exempted from the dumping provisions of the Customs Act.

Issue New Postage Stamp

Ottawa, Ont.—The confederation and historical series of postage stamps issued some time ago by the post office department has just been rounded out by the issue of a stamp commemorating the memory of Sir Georges Etienne Cartier. It is greyish brown in colour and has a postage value of 10 cents.

Riots At Estevan

Grim Toll Of Death and Destruction As Police Battle With Mob

Estevan, Sask.—Warfare broke out in the town of Estevan leaving in its wake a grim toll of death and destruction as police battled for three-quarters of an hour with a mob of striking miners.

Two strikers were killed by rifle bullets, five strikers gravely injured, five bystanders and twelve policemen injured during the fracas.

Nick Narwan, one of the dead, was shot through the heart as he mounted a fire truck which was used to play water on the rioters. Julian Jryshko, Blenfall, was shot in the abdomen as he was running in front of the town hall with the rioters. He died as he was brought into the Estevan hospital waiting room.

One mounted police officer, Constable Sutherland, R.C.M.P., was gravely injured during the riot. Constable Palmer had his arm fractured by an iron bar, and others received scalp wounds from flying rocks and pieces of metal. Most of the policemen were able to carry on after emergency treatment.

The riot was precipitated when the strikers, four hundred in number, decided to hold a parade and demonstration in Estevan in defiance of an edict forbidding this. Thirteen arrests were made by the police.

Viscount Byng Retires

Ends Three Year Term As Chief Of Scotland Yard Force

London, Eng.—"I am, as you know, sorry to leave," said Viscount Byng of Vimy, as he left Scotland Yard for the last time. His retirement as Chief Commissioner of the Metropolitan Police and head of Scotland Yard ended a three-year term in which he effected a wide reorganization of the great force, undertaken only two years after the end of his term as Governor-General of Canada.

"Age and health are the sole reasons which compel me to go," Lord Byng added. "I am responsible for neither of them. The police force, I can say truthfully, is the finest force in the world. It is keeping pace with no other with modern scientific developments in regard to wireless and every other form of advancement that can help it in counteracting the activities of the criminal."

"I leave the force with great feelings of affection."

League Fails To Agree On An Arms Truce

Geneva, Switzerland.—The League of Nations Assembly adjourned after five sessions towards an arms truce in preparation for the 1932 world disarmament conference.

Unable to agree on an extensive programme which might improve prospects for the conference next February, the Assembly limited itself to requesting the governments which have been invited to the conference to notify the league secretariat before November 1, if they are disposed to accept an arms truce.

The league attempted to put through Italian Foreign Minister Dino Grandi's project for a one-year truce by all nations, but the proposal met with objections from various nations.

The assembly also asked the world powers to submit statistics of their present armaments, reiterating its previous request for such information. Only 25 out of 63 nations involved have submitted the statistics to date.

Nicolas Titulesco, of Roumania, president of the assembly, said that, largely as a result of his assembly's work, the date for the disarmament conference had not been changed from February, and that all efforts to postpone the meeting had been rejected.

Titulesco also paid tribute to the league's newest member, Mexico, saying that her participation would constitute one of the most important of the league's advances toward universal peace.

Alejandro Lerroux, of Spain, president of the council, said prior to adjournment, that he had hoped to report final solution of the Chinese-Japanese conflict in Manchuria. Despite the council's greatest efforts, he said, the goal had not yet been attained.

The council counts on Japan's declaration that she has no territorial ambitions in Manchuria and her plan to withdraw troops as quickly as possible, he said, adding that the goodwill of both parties in direct negotiations for a settlement would constitute the best means toward a final solution. The council will continue to promote efforts until a settlement is reached.

POLICE BATTLE WITH RIOTERS AT GLASGOW

London, Eng.—In Glasgow, Scotland; Salford, Lancashire, and Bristol and London, England, demonstrations were attempted by crowds of unemployed.

In all cases mounted police armed with batons proved sufficient to handle the disturbances, although the mob on Glasgow Green numbered fully 50,000. A number of the rioters and some policemen were slightly injured, and numerous arrests were effected.

The most important disturbance was that at Glasgow, which finally ended in the arrest of John Brown, turbulent Labour member of the House of Commons. Scotland's principal industrial city was the scene of various demonstrations during the day. Early, thousands of men and women paraded, but deep constabulary guarding and shouting and traffic holdups, order was maintained. The corporation received a deputation of 15 and afterwards agreed by a vote of 57 to 38 to accept the grievance to the public assistance committee.

A crowd of 50,000 jobless gathered on Glasgow Green was charged by mounted police. Several persons were injured. The demonstrators were led by John McGovern, who participated in a free-for-all fight in the Commons some weeks ago. He was agitated on a charge of forming a disorderly mob.

McGovern, at the head of the mob, was surrounded by a bodyguard of four huskier armed strikers. A half dozen constables turned their way through to the M.P. and asked him in the classic phrase, to "move on." He refused to do so, saying he resented the action of the authorities.

When one of the constables raised a baton, the bodyguard got into action and a scuffle ensued. Within a brief space of time the constables quelled the disturbance and took McGovern to police headquarters, where he was placed in a cell after his application for bail was refused.

As the crowd was driven from the famous green they attacked shops, smashing window panes and helping themselves to whatever they could lay their hands on. Residents of nearby tenements joined in the disorder by hurling missiles at the police. Sticks, hammers, iron bars, loaded sticks, chair legs and broken bottles were among the improvised weapons that figured in the mayhem.

Mounted and foot police patrolled the city after midnight dispersing groups of demonstrators.

Viscount Jellicoe III

France Will Need Wheat

Paris, France.—France's wheat yield this year, because of heavy rains and lack of sunshine, will be insufficient for her needs, official figures indicate. The Ministry of Agriculture estimates the 1931 crop at between 213,000,000 bushels and 227,000,000 bushels, 14,000,000 less than required.

Toronto, Ont.—"Canada will honour her obligations in accordance with the terms of the borrowing contracts." This was the emphatic comment of Premier R. B. Bennett in referring to the financial situation. There was no other statement to make, the Prime Minister added.
